

432

1912 Dates J-BK

422-432 reign

St. CELESTINE I was 43rd Pontiff
He succeeded Boniface I

432 AD

St. Patrick begins his mission to Ireland

432

St. Patrick began his mission to Ireland.

died 432 AD.

ruled 422 AD

Saint Celestine I (Pope) reigned peacefully after his victory over the dissensions of the EULALIUS factions at the beginning of his rule in 422 AD. In 431, his legates at the COUNCIL of EPHEBUS dealt successfully with the Nestorian controversy. He suppressed the semi-Pelagianism in Gaul. It is believed that he sent PALLADIUS & supplies

some - Phlogeston in Britain and that he sent St Patrick on missionary work in Ireland.
The first day is Apr. 6

432

C 389 - 461 Saint Patrick

Born in Roman Britain. At age 16 was captured & sold into slavery in Ireland. After 6 yrs of labor as shepherd Patrick escaped to the Continent.

Returned to Britain, age 22. Then to Gaul, where he studied.

Was ordained C 417 to diocese.

Spent 15 yrs in Church of AUXERRE On death of PALLADIUS, Patrick was ordered Bishop (432) and set out for Ireland. Patrick secured tolerance for Christians, through active preaching for converts among native tribes

He developed a native clergy, looked after growth of monasteries, established dioceses & held Church Councils

A-32BC

METON introduced his cycle.
It was a nineteen year solar cycle of 235 months

432

St Patrick's mission for which he spent perhaps 20 yrs in preparing is dated A.D. 432.

Among his companions were Gouls &
Britons:

St Patrick preached the Gospel
in Ireland.

St. Patrick arrived in Ireland

The conversion of the Celtic island to Christianity began. The Church of Gaul consecrated Patrick, born a Roman citizen in Britain. A Bishop in 432 sent him to Ireland. He had been taken to Ireland as a slave (c 405) but had escaped in 415. Now his mission was to convert the pagan island to Christianity. Patrick was the first to quote the Gospels as truths for all men - even barbarians. His first converts was made at TARA. He went of the most powerful king of ERIN. A local prince gave him land to build a church at ARMA-GH of which Patrick became the 1st Bishop. 3 other bishops were also appointed: from northern LEINSTER, Connaught LEINSTER, and MEATH.

Patrick died in 461. The foundations of Christianity were well laid among the people

432

St. Patrick arrived in Ireland.
By time of his death in 461 most of the country had been converted.